CG's 'Mission Vision'

By TC Correspondent

Chaudhary Group (CG), as a part of its Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) has been conducting CG-Operation Drishti project, an eye camp in six districts: Baglung, Gulmi, Kapilvastu, Nawalparasi, Morang and Sunsari since November 2011. CG has been implementing the five-year long project in partnership with HelpAge International, Nepal Participatory Action Network (NEPAN) and Nepal Netra Jyoti Sangh.

The target groups of the project are low income individuals with low to zero access to healthcare, particularly eyecare. The major aim of the project is to deliver quality ophthalmic services to underprivileged and marginalized groups, often isolated of access to opportunities at their reach. The eye camp targets in bringing sight to about 1,000 older people through 11 eye camps.

Until now, the company has conducted the eye camp only in two districts: Baglung and Gulmi. The first round of the eye camp was conducted in Barend, Baglung from 12-15 December, 2011 followed by the second camp in Neta Darling, Gulmi from 21-23 December, 2011. During the period, a total of 899 patients were examined out of which 80 underwent major cataract surgeries in both districts. The patients were provided with proper counseling on post operative care and precautions to be followed for quick healing. Accommodation and food for the eye camp patients were also provided. Almost all the patients gained good vision after surgery.

"CG-CSR initiative is a continuing effort conducted through government, non-Government and international donor agencies in providing much needed services and facilities to underprivileged groups," said the company.
